Free Computer Taster Sessions

Are you aged 50+ living in a rural area and wanting to learn how to use the internet? We have tutors who could come out to your venue with laptops for groups of around 10 people to teach basic computing and the benefits of the internet.

The types of things that could be covered include: Surfing the web, contacting relatives, internet banking, shopping and even tracing your family history.

If you have a group who would like to book a session or to find out if there is already a group in your area please contact Kim Allibone on 01604 611200.
